*	- The following process is applied for the payment of service fees in all of the permit or license services given to nuclear facilities. Exceptions are defined in the relevant permits or licenses. - In nuclear facilities, 1% of the permit or license service fee is deposited into the Authority's account at the time of application. If this fee is not paid, the application will not be reviewed. - As a result of the review of the application, 79% of the service fee is deposited into the account of the Authority, within one month at the latest, following the notification that it has been accepted by the Authority and that detailed evaluation will begin. If the fee is not paid within the time limit, the review will be suspended until the payment is made. - In case it is notified that a permit or license will be granted as a result of the review by the Authority, 20% of the service fee is deposited into the Authority's account. If this fee is not paid, no permit or license will be granted. - For applications that do not result in a positive result for any reason, the service fee collected until that day is not refunded, and the same service fees are charged for re-applications.
	The service fee for the permit for modifications in nuclear facilities is calculated over the labor force spent and is collected as the document fee after the evaluation process is completed.
	Excluding deep geological waste disposal facilities
*	During installation and operation of nuclear facility, an annual inspection fee is to be paid after granted limited work permit to facility until removing from regulatory control. The payment is made in advance in January of each year. For the year in which the permit is granted, the fee calculated by proportioning the remaining days of the relevant year, taking into account the day that the permit is granted, is paid within 30 days.
